Fishing the Pristine Waters

Leslie County boasts an unparalleled diversity of fishing opportunities, catering to all skill levels and preferences. From calm, trout-filled streams to meandering rivers teeming with bass and catfish, there's something for every angler.

Fly Fishing for Trout

The pristine waters of Middle Fork Kentucky River and its tributaries offer exceptional fly fishing experiences. Cast your line for rainbow, brown, and brook trout that lurk in the crystal-clear pools and riffles. The guide provides detailed maps, access points, and fly selection tips to optimize your trout excursions.

Bass and Catfish Bonanza

The North Fork Kentucky River and Poor Fork offer unparalleled opportunities for bass and catfish enthusiasts. Float or wade these waters and target largemouth bass, smallmouth bass, spotted bass, and catfish of various sizes. The guide reveals prime fishing spots, proven bait and lure techniques, and valuable insights to increase your catch rate.

Paddlefish and Muskie Adventures

For those seeking truly unique fishing experiences, Leslie County unveils hidden gems for paddlefish and muskie adventures. The guide uncovers the secrets of the Kentucky River, where paddlefish congregate, and provides tactics for targeting these ancient giants. Similarly, anglers can explore the remote waters of Cave Run Lake for the elusive muskie, following expert advice on trolling and casting strategies.

Floating Leslie County's Waterways

Beyond fishing, Leslie County offers an unforgettable floating experience. The gentle currents of the Kentucky River and its tributaries allow you to soak in the stunning scenery while immersing yourself in nature.

Flat Water Serenity

The North Fork Kentucky River between Hyden and Buckhorn provides calm waters ideal for leisurely floating trips. Paddle or tube down the river, enjoying the tranquility of its forested banks and the occasional wildlife sighting.

Adrenaline-Pumping Rapids

For those seeking adventure, the Middle Fork Kentucky River offers heart-pounding rapids and whitewater runs. Navigate Class III and IV rapids, surrounded by towering cliffs and rugged terrain. The guide provides detailed descriptions of each rapid, ensuring a safe and exhilarating experience.

Scenic Overlooks and Wildlife Encounters

Throughout your floating journey, you'll encounter breathtaking scenic overlooks, including the Daniel Boone National Forest and the Red River Gorge. Keep your eyes peeled for an abundance of wildlife, such as bald eagles, river otters, and deer.
